Reading assistance for Primary schools

Two or three afternoons per week students of our grades 8 and 9 support the primary school and read with the primary children for one hour. They read to them, read together and most of the time the primary children read and get help from our students whenever help is needed.

The primary teachers appreciate this support very much as they have neither spare time for the children nor extra staff to read with their students.

It is a bit of organizing (compile a schedule for the students “ who is when at the Primary School”) but except for that easy to handle and all in all a great success with little effort!!
